GALLIPOLIS, THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1880.

Railroad News.

Last week another locomotive with cars was landed here. They were brought up, and are now on the track. There are now three locomotives and twenty-seven cars here; also more cars are to come, when the complement will be complete.

Saturday evening the track was laid to the trestle at Mr. A. Pinney's, in Springfield township, about one mile beyond Kevergreen, or eight miles from the city. Between there and Vinton there are some cuts and trestles, which may cause a little delay to the track-layers.

The Glenn River trestle, just below Vinton, and the largest one on the road, was completed last week. There are two at McCarty's and one at Hanger's now being crowded.

The two extra trains are now hauling the road. Some trouble has been had with the steam shovel, but it is all right now.

The construction train leaves here at 6 1/2 a. m. every morning to take out the hands, and returns for material. The boys get out of bed early of mornings and go out on it, returning before 8 o'clock.

The tow-boat Iron Age put off here last week, 75 tons of spikes and fish-bars.

Mr. Shaw is making good progress with his work on the Pomeroy branch. He has about one mile already graded.

Here are the names of the two Survey Corps now working on this end of our railroad: Chief Engineer of the road, J. H. Wilson, of Philadelphia. First Division Pomeroy Branch, V. P. Sefford, of Chillicothe, assisted by Mr. Allibone, of Texas, and Jas. R. Stuart of this city. Second Division Pomeroy Branch, M. Wicklin, of Philadelphia, assisted by L. F. Feiler and Mr. Gorman.

L. F. Dill, of the M. & C. R. R., is Engineer, and Wiley Crawford is Foreman of No. 76.

The construction train from the Logan end has reached McArthur.

The steam shovel is now in good running order. The basket lifts 1 1/2 yards of dirt, six to a car, seven cars to a train. Three minutes is the best time in filling a car. The clay they are now taking off, used for widening the road bed, stands 5 feet thick over the gravel. They expect to handle gravel in 3 or 4 weeks.

The engine is 24 horse power, using 80 or 90 pounds of steam. Engineer, Adam Handel, Newark, O.; beam director, N. Radolph, Lancaster, O.; Fireman, Ed. Gengnagel, Logan, O.; Mr. A. Burdell, late chief materialman for R. G. Houston & Co., of the C. & S. R. R., is boss of the gravel arrangements.

Of the Springfield and Southeastern Ohio R. R., the Iron Age Register says: Letters have been received from the Springfield Southern men. They say the rights of way for that road are being taken through Jackson county, to a point where they can go through this county either down Synnes to Huntington or through the four-acre region to Iron Age. But how they will diverge they don't say. President Whitney will visit here in a few days.

The River and Harbor bill, in Congress, appropriates $250,000 for the Ohio river, and $250,000 for West Virginia rivers, the principal item being $200,000 for the Kanawha river.

In these days of profanity is indulged in. There are times when the mantle of charity should be thrown over this weakness, especially when Neuralgia is the direct promulgator. We recommend White's Cure as the mantle.

It is estimated that the arrival of emigrants from Europe this year will exceed that for any year since the Revolutionary war. They go mainly to the Western States.

In the address of the Bishops to the General Conference, M. R. Church, now in session at Cincinnati, it is stated that within four years there has died 512 traveling preachers and 78,320 members. The statistics for 1879 give 11,636 traveling preachers, 12,475 local preachers, and 1,700,392 members and probationers, an increase in members and probationers since the last quadrennial Conference of 119,743.

The Republican Central Committee have called the County Convention for May 29th. The leading object for calling it so soon is to elect delegates to the Congressional Convention, which will probably meet sometime in June.—Iron Age Register.

Four out of six of the members of the Congressional Committee had a talk over the matter at Columbus, pending the State Convention. The prevailing idea was that about the first of August would be early enough for holding the Convention.

An Anti-Third Term National Republican Convention was held in St. Louis Thursday. The Convention was not only respectable in point of numbers, twenty States sending delegates, but influential, and its proceedings characterized by great dignity. The tone of the convention was that of a determined opposition to the third-term principle. It created a committee to express to the Chicago convention its opposition to a third term nominee, and a second committee with power to call a convention to ward securing a second Republican nomination for the Presidency in case of Grant's success at Chicago. The action of the convention, respectable as the body was in numbers and in character, cannot, and should not fail to produce some effect upon National politics.

Six hundred of the 750 delegates who will compose the Chicago Convention have been elected. The New York Tribune, after a most careful examination of the conflicting claims of the partisans of the various candidates, assigns these 600 delegates as follows: Blaine 241, Grant 221, Sherman 91, Edmunds 31, and Washburn 13. This gives no candidate a majority.

Iron Age Register.—There was a big trial before Esq. Cooper, Sunday, May 2d. Phillip Wagner was arrested on a warrant sworn out by William Howell, charging that said Wagner had wilfully and maliciously shot and killed one Adam Wagner. At the examination the State was represented by Messrs. Jos. and McDaniel, and the accused by Messrs. Peoples and Jerry Neal.

The circumstances attending the homicide are about as follows: Phillip Wagner had rented a piece of land from Cambria furnace company. Adam Wagner had rented the same place and planted part of it in potatoes. Phillip Wagner, from which it was called in corn, and entered a suit for trespass against Adam and a sub-renter by the name of Sam Furner. It, however, turned out that Adam had the prior claim, as he had rented the land first, and Mr. Lewis, the manager of Cambria, so stated, but had forgotten his lease to Adam when he rented to Phillip.

This explanation, however, seems not to have suited Phillip, who entered the premises and a quarrel with Adam followed. Phillip carried a five chamber 38 or 42 caliber revolver, with which he blazed away at Adam. The first shot missed. The next broke the left collar bone, ranged downward and inward, but could not afterward be found. The third shot entered the right ear, going straight through to the left temple, from which it was ejected. Death occurred almost instantly.

Phillip Wagner was arrested by Gallia county authorities, and was brought before Esquire Cooper, where a writ of habeas corpus was issued. Witnesses were summoned Saturday and the examination was had Sunday. The accused offered no defense, but his attorneys asked that the amount of bail be fixed. This was resisted by the prosecution on the ground that it was a case of murder in the first degree, and there should be no bail. With the view of the prosecution the Magistrate coincided and so Wagner was sent to jail to await trial.

All the parties in the case are residents of Gallia county; the killing only occurring in Lawrence county.

The Ohio Democrats held their State Convention, No. 1, at Columbus Thursday. Its only work was the selection of Delegates to the National Convention.

Convention No. 2, to nominate State officers, is to be held hereafter. No. 1 is thus described by the Cincinnati Commercial:—"Hot day and a high old tide, including a few knock-downs and black eyes, but otherwise a very orderly gathering." The Cincinnati Enquirer headlines the proceedings with a big Dollar mark, which signifies that "Tilden's barrel" controlled the action of the convention. It is supposed that the delegates to the National Convention will give the "favoured son," Allen G. Thurman, a complimentary vote, and then go over, body and breeches, to Tilden.

The President has vetoed the Deficiency Appropriation bill, because it contained a clause virtually repealing the election laws. The President stands by free and honest elections.

They couldn't find a preacher to invoke a divine blessing upon the Ohio Democratic State Convention, and hence there was no opening prayer.

In its report of the Cincinnati Democratic primaries the Enquirer says:

In Precinct A, of the Fifth Ward, the Jewitt men carried things with a high hand, and would not permit the Tilden men to vote at all. The executive man was not allowed to open the polls. Mr. W. W. Pugh (Tilden) asked for a Judge but was refused.

These are the fellows that claim to be in favor of a free, honest ballot-box. And here they are so rotten with ballot-box frauds that they cannot be honest even toward their party associates.
